

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, March 10, 2016 10:43 PM
To: Cassandra Green <kassandra.green@hockerlaw.com>
Subject: Cassandra Green - ACKNOWLEDGE THE RECEIPT OF MY MAIL.

Dear Cassandra,

How are you doing out there,I hope all is well with you and your entire family.

I informed [REDACTED] that I am doing everything possible to retain the services of your firm and he replied asking that we should give him a three weeks period of grace for him to arrange the balance funds he owes me.

With the above request from my ex spouse [REDACTED],I will want to please ask that we give him the three weeks period of grace to keep a decent relationship and if after the three weeks period of grace my ex spouse does not make the payment for the monies owed me then I will provide the Retainer Fee of $500 to your firm so as to retainer your services after which legal actions can continue.

I will want my ex spouse to make the payment to your firm and not me because in time past he has promised to make payment for the monies he owe me and he never did but I believe if he discovers that he is making the payment to your law firm and not me directly, he will not disappoint in making the payment.

If this is accepted by you,kindly provide the below details to enable my ex spouse make the payment via cheque to your firm.

NAME ON CHEQUE:

OFFICE MAILING ADDRESS:

PHONE NUMBER:

Please note: As soon as my ex spouse makes the payment via cheque to your firm,you will be required to deduct your Retainer Fee of $500 from the total amount paid to your firm by my ex spouse and the balance forwarded to me but if my ex spouse fails to make the payment within the three weeks period of grace then I will provide the Retainer Fee to your firm to enable legal actions to continue.

I also accept the 25% rate you have charged to deduct out of the total funds made payable to your firm by my ex spouse as this is fine with me.

Find attached,the retainer agreement signed by me.

I await your swift response acknowledging receipt of this mail.

Thanks,

Stacy.