Indianapolis Bar Association members have been significant but silent providers of pro bono legal services in the Indianapolis area for over 125 years. Serving others with time and patience, by navigating through the complex nature of the law, upholds the very foundation of the IndyBar. Indianapolis Bar Association members give more than $1 million worth of their time to Marion County residents who cannot afford legal assistance.

The following is a list of people who have assisted citizens of Indianapolis through their participation in one of the IndyBar programs.
