

A Decade of Decadence: Evening Under the Stars Through the Years

People return year after year for Evening Under the Stars, the Indianapolis Bar Foundation (IBF)'s hallmark fundraising effort. The event, which takes place this year on Oct. 10, consists of an elegant dinner, silent and live auctions and, of course, a treasure trove of memories for those who attend.

The past decade has provided snapshots of some of the best times had by attendees. Can you match the below photos to their year based on the clues? (Answers provided at the bottom of this article. 2007 not included – too much fun to capture in photos, according to our archives.)

1. Here are Jeff and Lisa Mortier at a past Evening Under the Stars. At the time this photo was taken, Jeff had been an IndyBar member for only 12 years.
